VALUABLE

Timber Lands

And Mill Property

FOR SALE.

THE subscriber desirous of disposing of all his interest in Timber Lands and mills, will sell on favorable terms the following

One-Half Township No. 5, Range 4, Oxford County.

The whole township contains twenty-six thousand (26,000) acres, is heavily timbered with spruce, estimated at sixty to eighty millions, all of which stands within near and easy hauling distance of the Magalloway river or its branches, which runs through the town, or Parmachenna Lake, which is embraced within its limits.

Also 16,000 Acres of Land in the Town of Byron, Oxford Co., well covered with large Spruce timber. Swift river and its branches run through these lands and empty into the Androscoggin below Rumford Falls.

Also 1100 Acres Timber and Wood Land in Town of Gorham, N. H.

two miles above the Alpine House, on the line of the Grand Trunk Railroad, and the banks of the Androscoggin river. There is a large quantity of wood on these lots which, from its proximity to the Railroad, is steadily increasing in value.

Also 1500 Acres Lands in the Towns of Albany and Moneham, near the village of North Waterford, Oxford County. This land is covered with thrifty sapling Pine timber, standing near Crooked river, which runs through the tract. Logs put into Crooked river can be run to Saccarappa, or by hauling four to five miles they can be put into the Saco. There is a good mill privilege, with a single mfy mill on the tract; distance to tide water at Portland, 30 miles; to the railroad at South Paris twelve miles. The land is valuable for settling purposes after being cleared of timber.

Also 435 Shares of Stock in the Lewiston Falls Manufacturing Company, the whole capital stock being represented by six

THE

Central Railroad of Iowa.

ITS

SEVEN PER CENT GOLD

1st Mortgage Bonds

Free of Government Tax,

At 95 and Accrued Interest.

MANY PERSONS ARE SELLING THEIR GOVERNMENT BONDS WHILE THE PREMIUM IS STILL LARGE, AND REINVESTING IN THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS OF THE CENTRAL RAILROAD OF IOWA, WHICH PAY ABOUT ONE THIRD MORE INTEREST. THE TIME TO MAKE SUCH REINVESTMENT is while the Treasury is buying and Government's are at par value.

THE ROAD DOES NOT RUN THROUGH A WILDERNESS, as it would have to do if built for population and business but through the most thickly settled and prosperous agricultural counties in the State, which guarantee a large traffic from commencement.

It runs through the great coal fields of Southern Iowa to the North, where coal is mainly used, and must be carried.

It runs from the great grain fields of the North through a thickly settled country and to the ports of this prosperous State.

The mortgage is made to the Farmers Loan and Trust Company, of New York, and Bonds can be issued only at the rate of $16,000 per mile, or only half the amount upon any other roads. Special care is to be exercised in the location of the line, and the payments of interest

The New York Tribune says: "This is a step in the right direction, and deserves the most liberal support."

The New York Independent says, We know the Central Railroad of Iowa to be the great agricultural road of that State. Its line runs through the most productive counties, and its business must be large and remunerative. Having bank presidents and other strong men for its directors who have means enough to build it over three such roads as one of the counties, we feel sure that all the affairs will be ably conducted. We regard the Central Iowa will be to that State what the New York Central is to this, except that it runs through a far richer country. We therefore recommend the Central Iowa Bonds with entire confidence to their friends. The bonds are first Mortgage of $16 000 per mile upon a road in operation, although such a mortgage cannot be otherwise than safe."

The Boston Daily Advertiser says, "It will be remembered that the Central Iowa Railroad Company is constructing through fertile lands, and will be connected with Pacific Railroads. It will be commercially a perfect success as well as very profitable investment. The bonds seem to us quite as safe than the Government bonds, and they can be obtained at a much higher rate. Pamphlets and circulars can be obtained and subscriptions will be received at the COMPANY'S OFFICE, 20 PINE ST., NEW YORK, and at the BANK OF NORTH AMERICA, 44 WALL ST., and at Banking Houses.

EVENING DISPATCHES.

SPANISH BUTCHERIES.

NEW YORK, March 3.

An Havana letter of the Feb. 26 says that the Spaniards claimed to have captured correspondence showing that a Cuban Junta existed in Santiago.

From 40 to 50 persons, planters, merchants, lawyers doctors, clerks, &c., were at once arrested, and by of the most prominent have been tried by a military commission, found guilty of disloyalty, sentenced to death and executed. The names of five of the victims are as follows: Senor Andres La Punti, the Grand Orcent of the Free Masons of the Island, a very wealthy planter and a man unusually esteemed for his benevolence and fine abilities. Cap. Jose Villalgo, once an officer of the Spanish army; Don Jose M. Portonde, a planter; and two American citizens, Messrs. Charles Dunnery and John F. Portonde, the first an American by birth and the second by naturalization.

The Consul at Santiago reported the affair to the American Consul General at Havana, who has probably forwarded the facts to Washington.

The Spanish papers report the victims as pirates.

The victims testified that they were members of a secret society, but that their association was a Masonic Lodge and met only as Masons for Masonic purposes. This was only the worse for them as a Catholic priest denounced all Masons as traitors.

Mr. Phillips, Consul at Santiago, ably seconded by the British Consul, endeavored hard and long to save the lives of his two countrymen, Messrs. Dunnery and Portuondo, but without avail.

The volunteers insisted upon their full blood being shed as well as that of their eleven Cuban associates, and thwarted all appeals made to the Lieut. Governor of the District to spare them. The two Americans were Free Masons and therefore were sacrificed to Spanish intolerance and fanaticism.

Forty more were arrested, but were not executed at the time the above were shot, but probably have been.

The volunteers were furious at the delay in executing the latter, caused by the Lieut-Governor of the District of Santiago sending to the Capt-General for advice on the subject. There were several Americans among them.

Consul Phillips has asked that an American man-of-war be sent there, and the British Consul has also sent for a frigate. The excitement at Santiago was very great.

A British subject had also been murdered by the volunteers at Santiago.

It was stated that the Cuban Gen. Quesada before being suspended by Gen. Jordan, shot 130 Spaniards and subsequently General Jordan shot 300 more in retaliation for the horrible murders of Cuban families and Cuban prisoners by Spaniards.

An expedition safely landed recently at Cocon Bubbles near Las Tunos, with 1500 rifles, 3 cannon, 3 cartridges, and a ton and a half of powder for the Cubans.

The Americans at Havana and throughout the island are alarmed at the position taken by the Capt Gen with the volunteers, and many are leaving.

The reported protection given by the British commander of the iron-clad Defiance to Capt Braikan of schr. Fulton, is confirmed. The volunteers assembled in great numbers on the wharves determined to kill him, but the prompt action of the British commander saved his life. There was no American war vessel in port.

CABLE NEWS.

PARIS, March 3. A preliminary meeting of Americans was held in this city last evening to take action in relation to the death of Mr. Bowlby case. It was agreed to call a large meeting next Wednesday, to be presided over by Mr. Washburne, The American Minister, Ex Gov. A. H. Bullock of Mass., who is now in this city, has consented to deliver an oration. The diplomatic corps have been invited to be present.

With regard to the Cuban question, it is stated that President Grant, in recent conversation with a prominent Congressman who favors the insurgent cause, indicated his willingness to conform to any recommendation which the friends of the Administration in Congress deemed advisable.

The U. S. Supreme Court on Monday decided a point which has long been mooted, but never before legally determined. The point was brought up in several cotton cases, and was, in brief, "When did the war close?" The Court fixed it as the 17th day of August, 1866, that being the date of President Johnsob's proclamation to that effect.

WESTERN PECULIARITIES. A paper published in Portage, Wisconsin, tells the following story:

"The people of Wood County regard George Hiles as something of a nuisance in their county, and as he would not move out of his own accord, they hit upon a novel expedient to get rid of him. The county was not large enough to divide, so Senator Webb procured the passage of a bill attaching several towns in Jackson county on to Wood—Jackson county being large enough to divide without a vote of the people. With the new towns thus annexed to Wood, the latter county contained sufficient territory to divide without a vote of the people. Thereupon, a second bill was passed, dividing Wood, setting back on to Jackson the towns which had been detached, together with the town in which Hiles resided; so he has moved out of Wood county without knowing when he did it. Strategy, my boy!"

One style of Illinois journalism is illustrated in the following paragraph, which appears in the Keithsburg Observer, under the heading of "Obituary":

"About two and a half years ago we took possession of this paper. It was then in the very act of pegging out, having neither funds, money nor credit. We tried to breathe into it the breath of life; we put into it all our money and everybody else's we could get hold of, but it was no go; either the people of Keithsburg don't appreciate our efforts, or we don't know how to run a paper. We went into the business with confidence, determined to run it or bust. We have busted. During our connection with the Observer, we have made some friends and numerous enemies. The former will have our gratitude while life lasts. The latter are affectionately requested to go to ——."

A HARD PASSAGE. We recently noticed the lengthy passage of the ship John Watt of Bath, Maine, which arrived at Yokohama after being at sea 225 days. A letter from the master states that he was 40 days from Cardiff to the Equator and 114 days to Cape of Good Hope. After reaching the Java Sea they had light winds and head currents, and were 60 days thence to the Pacific Ocean by way of the Pitts and Gilo Passage, and 40 days from that point to her destination. During the last 50 days of the voyage twelve of the crew were laid up sick, and only the captain, two mates, with two sailors and the steward, were left to work the ship.

The new ship Java, of Boston, Capt. Basset, which sailed from New York Jan. 16, 1869, for Japan, has never been heard from since leaving port, and was 369 days out at last advices. She has been given up as lost, having probably foundered at sea. Last year was quite remarkable for long passages to that country from the Atlantic, and one or two other ships were upward of 200 days in making the run.—Boston Journal.

One of the life insurance companis in Hartford, has in its office an arithmometer, a calculating machine recently obtained in Europe, and the only one in use in this country. It is comparatively small, about twenty inches and looks, when closed, like a German music-box. The wheels, gearings and dial, are of steel and brass, and it is so contrived as to perform the operations of addition, subtraction, multiplication and division with a speed unattainable by mental process, and an accuracy absolute though mechanical.

A Minnesota lumber merchant reports that about 100,000,000 feet of logs will be banked this winter in the pineries of the Rum river and the upper Mississippi—much the greater quantity in the latter section. This is equal to the quantity cut last winter, and there is about 30,000,000 feet of last winter's logs on hand, which gives an unusually large stock for the coming season.

The New York Evening Post says the resignation of Mr. Golladay sweeps away, at one blow, a full third of the repudiation party in Congress. That party has consisted, since the election of General Grant, of Messrs. Jones of Tennessee, Mungen of Ohio, and Golladay of Kentucky. Before the last Presidential election it was more numerous; but the accession of Grant has made honesty fashionable.

FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 1870.

HOW LONG?

The cowardly savages who pass under the euphoneous name of "volunteers" in Cuba are still reveling in their carnival of blood. Such irrepressible barbarity as they persistently exhibit has scarcely a parallel in all the bestialities that ever assumed the name of warfare. Their particular rage seems to be for American blood, and their thirstiness is absolutely insatiable. So fierce are they that the Spanish authority submits to their passionate dictation, and peaceable citizens are at their mercy upon the slenderest suspicion.

Our people have been patient all this time because hoping that our Government was investigating with the idea of calling upon Spain to amend the system of misgovernment and outrage in Cuba, or with the idea of interfering to put a forcible end to such disreputable and cruel violence. Congress has frequently called for a change of front, and yet the bloody work still goes on. The people have protested against our apparent lukewarmness, and yet American citizens are sacrificed to the uncontrollable blood thirstiness of the volunteers.

And now the news comes that our citizens in Cuba are necessarily under the protection of the British flag, that they appeal in vain for protection from our own navy, that our own vessels are scarcely known in Cuban waters and that even Havana is without a representative of our navy. Is this the result of carelessness, gross mismanagement, or willful intent? Two more Americans have been butchered without a hearing, all are trembling lest the next turn is theirs, and the promiscuous slaughter of quiet Cubans is continued. To say nothing of the systematic outrages upon the laws of war continually reported by the Spanish banditti, the helplessness of our own citizens there should bring a blush to every American cheek. How long must the endure it?

The editor of the Democrat is terribly "worried" because the Whig exposes Democratic corruption and extravagance in New York—It's too bad. But the fact is, Mr Democrat, you have endeavored to entangle the citizens of Maine into giving their mammoth governments into just such hands as manipulate New York solely for personal profit, and we thought it well enough to show that it costs about as much to run the Tammany machine as it does to carry on the United States Government. We might cite other examples to be sure, but Democracy is a rare and limited luxury in this country, you know, and we take the purest sample at hand. We might of course quote Kentucky, and, just to relieve the harassed soul of the Democrat, tell how its Legislature last year appropriated money to decorate the Governor's mansion and other equally unpatriotic filigree work to tickle its Democratic vanity at the expense of the people, and how the State debt was thereby increased to the tune of several millions—There is an odor of notoriety to Democratic extravagance and corruption that suits one example to the whole very well.

It is noteworthy that the Democrat does not undertake to deny the truth of our figures relative to Democratic rule in New York—And yet in speaking of the Democratic caucus to be held here next week, it undertakes to arouse the clans by this appeal.

'I, behooves every farmer and every middling man whose every dollar of property is exposed to the Assessor to look well to his interests.'

We should say so, for if he "looks well to his interests," he may regard Democratic examples in other cities, keep his pocket-book well in hand and avoid all such traps for the unwary as the Democrat seeks to set. And, in conclusion if the Democrat will not so severely chafe at a repetition of the dose we have casually administered before, and which appears so disagreeable to it, let us ask, also casually, if the people of Bangor desire to repeat the extravagant corruption, which rules in New York, or will they let well enough alone?

The important measure of consolidation was considered in the Senate yesterday. New sections were added to the bill to the effect, that roads consolidating shall not discriminate against the business of a connecting road not consolidating, but shall provide fair and equitable rates for the prompt transportation of such freights, that any road leased by any of the consolidated roads, may insist on the renewal of the lease upon expiration, that any road not belonging to the consolidation may claim and become a party thereof on terms agreed upon, or, failing to agree, upon terms that shall be settled by a Commission appointed by the Justices of the Supreme Court, that the State may reserve the right to amend alter and take away the privileges and power that the corporations may acquire by this bill. These amendments were adopted and Wednesday next assigned for its further consideration.

With these amendments the friends of the measure feel confident of its success. A test vote showed at least sixteen in its favor. The Legislature seems very properly determined to surround it with sufficient safeguards to allay all fears of an abuse of power, and to require such concessions as will be for the interest of every section.

The Democrat of this week devotes more than a column to the disgrace and expulsion of Mr. Whittemore from the House of Representatives for peddling cadetships. That's right. After seeing that, of course we turned over the paper to find what about the Honorable Golladay, who has resigned to avoid expulsion, and the Honorable Mungen who sold his cadetship to a political opponent for the paltry sum of three hundred dollars—Not a word! But then, you know, the first was a Republican carpet-bagger, and the two others were repudiation Democrats, whose mantles cover safely a multitude of sins—There's the lovely pattern of a news-paper for you! But we forget that it is not the rogue but the radical with which the Democrats contend.

It is now thought that the trial of McFarland for the murder of Richardson will be again postponed until April. He expresses great hope of an acquittal. No doubt of that. For even the World says the Courts there "sell justice for a price." That price is Democratic influence.

The new excise bill passed the New York State Senate Monday evening, and has now passed into a law. A peculiarity of the bill is that no provision is made for the enormous amounts of money that are to be collected for licensing liquor shops. The "honest" Democracy will absorb it. That is a good beginning for a Democratic administration.

The bill concerning the rate of interest was passed to be engrossed by the Senate yesterday by yeas 18, nays 6.

The total amount of merchandize and specie imported into the United States for the six months ending Jan. 1st, 1870, was $213,565,193. The total exports and re-exports of merchandize, specie and bullion for the same time were $199,124,111. Of the exports and imports American ships carried $156,685,310. The exports of specie show an improvement in favor of the United States for the above period of $19,000,000.

COMMANDER EDWARD P WILLIAMS. The officer commanding the ill fated Oneida, Edward P Williams, was a native of Maine and was about 42 years of age. He leaves four orphan children. He entered the naval service as Midshipman September 1847. During the late war, when ranking as a Lieutenant, he participated in the engagement on the Ogeechee River Florida. He also covered the landing of the Federal troops at Pocotaligo. In the expedition up the St Johns River, he penetrated as far as Lake Enterprise and captured the Confederate steamer Governor Morton. Lieutenant Williams belonged to the naval forces engaged in the siege of Fort Sumter. He took part in the several engagements with the enemy's batteries on Morris Island, and was with the Chocora in the successful effort to drive them from the wreck of the Keokuk. During a night attack upon Fort Sumter Lieutenant Williams was captured by the garrison. He was sent to Charleston and afterwards to Columbia S C, and suffered imprisonment over a year. After his exchange he was assigned to ordinance duty at the Boston Navy Yard. His present commission as Commander, dated from July 25, 1866. His whole sea service was fifteen years. He was a brave and efficient officer, and popular with his brother officers and the men under his command.

THE CONVENTION OF EDUCATORS

The National Assembly of School Teachers and Superintendents now in session here is taking hold of some questions with a good deal of vigor. The leading gentlemen in it are all strongly in favor of having a competitive examination as the basis of admission to West Point and Annapolis, and the association has appointed a committee of three with Professor Northrup of New Haven at its head to urge the matter on Congress and the administration. He had a talk to-day with the President, the Secretary of War, Secretary of the Navy, and Inspector-General of West Point, and found them warmly in favor of this policy, and ready to aid the association in every proper manner. Mr Northrup and others are to appear before the Senate Judiciary committee to-morrow morning to present the facts and figures bearing on points at issue. To-day's session of the association was largely devoted to discussion of questions relating to the cause of education in the South. The members are in favor of some aid by land grants, and will probably adopt resolutions defining their position to-morrow. Papers were read by the State Superintendent of North Carolina and General Howard. The latter spoke in support of the transfer of the school work of the Freedmen's Bureau to the Bureau of Education, and in the course of his remarks said that his bureau had spended $3,500,000 for Southern education, and that benevolent institutions of the North had expended as much more. He favored special aid to start schools, which should then be supported by the States themselves.

The Garden of England

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

Since coming to London, I have made five or six trips down the Thames, through the counties of Surrey and of Kent, and as these counties are considered the garden of England, I will try to give your readers a general idea of this portion of the kingdom.

It will be necessary to remind the reader, first of all that Surrey comes on to the south bank of the Thames and that about one third of London is built upon it. The counties bounded on the north by the counties of Buckingham and Middlesex on the east by Kent, on the south by Sussex and on the west by Berkshire and Hampshire and you will get some conception of the extent of ground included in the metropolis as well as interest in the great as well as modern history of the country.

Surrey is a hilly region and I am told by those acquainted with the people, I should say that the middle part of this county is not really very fertile. A string of low chalk hills run through the center of the county from east to west. Between the chalk hills where the land is high enough it is quite fertile and England's natural powers have been wonderfully supplemented by the most scientific and careful cultivation. But the sum of the country surrounding this immense but formless center is about as beautiful and productive as any equal superficies to be found in Europe. That part of the country forming the northern border of the county which lies along the Thames is perhaps the richest portion of the whole and the part considered within the limits of the metropolis is covered with small farms, gardens, country seats of the rich merchants and the suburbs of the more appretending but not less charming villas of the smaller families of thrift and taste or fortune, at a region of unsurpassed loveliness and plenty.

The northwest corner of Surrey is called Big-shot. It is an English country village of no great pretensions but most of its people are of those whose names are known to the whole civilized world. Among the attractions of Big-shot are Putney, Barnes, Kew, Richmond Park and Hampton Court Park places occupying, I think, from the middle of the last and first half of the present century as well as during the Fourth and First Georges of England, as the residence of the Prince of Wales who was accused of the most disgraceful conduct in connection with the wreck of the Keokuk. During a night attack upon Fort Sumter Lieutenant Williams was captured by the garrison. He was sent to Charleston and afterwards to Columbia S C, and suffered imprisonment over a year. After his exchange he was assigned to ordinance duty at the Boston Navy Yard. His present commission as Commander, dated from July 25, 1866. His whole sea service was fifteen years. FORTY FIRST CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION

WASHINGTON, D C, March 3

SENATE

The reports from the Com on Commerce were received, as follows

Adversely on bill relicensing consuing vessels owned wholly by U S citizens from the necessity of employing licensed pilots, and the bill providing for a line of emigrant steamers between New York and Scandinavian and German ports, and with amendment, the bill incorporating the National Bolivian Navigation Co

The consideration of the funding bill was resumed

Mr Morrill of Vt, addressed the Senate on the impolicy of issuing a loan at less than 4 per cent, asserting his belief that at the proposed rate it could not be negotiated either among our own people or abroad The plan was objectionable in so far as the national banks were badly treated, in consequence of which the charters of many of them might be thrown up and the bonds offered in the market to the detriment of the national credit, and at a time when the credit of the United States should be supported by bonds bearing a liberal price

Mr Morton was in favor of the issue of millions and millions in bonds not redeemable in less than 30 years with the privilege of using any surplus moneys in buying the same as we are doing The provision regarding national banks he considered of no practicable importance as the best that could be done was to compel the banks to loan money cheaply and keep down the rates of money lenders The bill certainly would result in a contraction of the currency, to which the whole nation, especially the West and South, opposed He also objected to the great power the bill proposed to delegate to the Sec'y of the Treasury He expressed a desire to vote for a funding bill of some kind, but preferred to have a practical measure

Mr Cameron urged inaction, and moved to postpone the whole subject until April 3d — Rejected

Mr Chandler opposed the establishment of foreign agencies to pay our debts and said he would never vote for a proposition of that kind

Mr Sumner's amendment to apply the proceeds of the sale of new bonds to payment of 5-20 bonds of 1862 was not agreed to—12 to 47

Mr Sumner offered further to amend the first section so that the bond provided for should be the 40 and not the 20, and gave notice that he would propose to extend the four and one-half per cent loan to 30 years, and the 4 per cent. loan to 60 years

Mr Sherman assented to the amendment and by unanimous consent the section was so amended

Mr Sumner moved to amend by increasing the aggregate amount of new five per cent bonds from four to six hundred millions which was not agreed to

A resolution was adopted directing the Secretary of State to inform the Senate what States have ratified the 15th amendment and have transmitted the notice thereof to the State Department, and from time to time, as any State may hereafter notify the same

Adjourned

HOUSE

A resolution was adopted that the Com on Ways and Means inquire into the expediency of so amending the Internal Revenue laws as to place the manufacture of brick on the free list and to exempt from the tax persons engaged in quarrying blue stone A like resolution for a decided reduction in the rate of taxation on the distillation of brandy from grapes peaches and apples was adopted

Mr Ingersoll of Illinois, from the Com on Pacific reported a bill to authorize the building of a Military and Postal Railway from Washington to New York

A long desultory talk then ensued between Messrs Ingersoll Cox, Swann, Kerr and other members Mr Ingersoll desiring to hasten the disposal of the bill as soon as possible and the other members urging its delay An unsuccessful attempt having been made to fix a special assignment for the bill Mr Twitchell of Mass wished to move that the bill be recommitted and the Committee report the names of all incorporators whose names were inserted without their consent

Mr Ingersoll declined to yield for that motion and said the assumption was not warranted by facts

Mr Swann then offered an amendment that a road should not be constructed without the consent of the State through which it passes Rejected by a vote of 48 to 115—a strict party vote and the bill went over

The Indian appropriation bill was reported from the Com of the Whole The amendments were agreed to and the bill passed

In Com of the Whole on the tariff bill, Mr Brooks of N Y addressed the Committee in opposition to the bill, at some length, after which the Committee rose

Mr Butler of Mass, from the Com. on Reconstruction rose to report back a bill for the admission to representation in Congress of the State of Georgia

Mr Farnsworth of Ill, a member of the Committee, made a point of order that Mr Butler had not been authorized by the Committee to make such a report

Speaker—That cannot be a point of order, that is a point of veracity

Mr Farnsworth—Not at all

Mr Butler—I am responsible for what I am doing

The Speaker—It is the duty of the Chair to recognize the Chairman of the Committee on Reconstruction, which is authorized to report at any time

Mr Farnsworth—Does the gentleman from Mass say that the Committee authorized him to report back that bill"

Mr Butler—I am not to be catechised

Mr Farnsworth—Every member of the Committee knows that he has not considered that bill since it was recommitted, and I ask that the Clerk of the Committee may be summoned here to decide, if it is a question of veracity

Mr Butler—This is a very plain matter—The bill was before the Committee was reported to the House and ordered to be printed and recommitted for the purpose of being put upon its passage at the earliest possible moment. I am carrying out the instructions of the committee

The Speaker said he would submit to the House the question whether the report should be accepted as the report of the Committee

Mr Farnsworth—Then I desire the House to understand that the Committee has never authorized it.

The yeas and nays were ordered on the reception of the report, but Mr Butler yielded to Mr Washburn of Mass, who introduced a bill continuing to the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad the franchise and right of way Referred

Having adopted a resolution calling on the Secretary of War for information as to the late expedition against the Pigeon Indians the House adjourned

POETRY.

A Pungent Consideration of the Various Trades and Callings

BY [illegible] O'REILLY

Of all the trades that men may call
Unpleasant and offensive,
The Editor's is worst of all,
For he is ever pen sive,
His leaders lead to nothing high,
His columns are unstable,
And though the printers make him pie,
It does not suit his table

The Carpenter—his course is plane
His bit is always near him,
He augurs every hour of gain
He chisels—and none jeer him,
He shaves, yet is not close they say,
The public pay his board sir,
Full of wise saws he bores away
And so he swells his board, sir

St Crispin s son—the man of shoes
Has awl things at control, sir,
He waxes wealthy in his views
But near neglects his soul, sir,
His is indeed a heeling trade
And when we come to casting
The toe tal profits he has made
We find his ends are last ing

The Tailor too gives fits to all,
Yet never gets a bas ing,
His cabbage however small,
Are most delicious tasting,
His goose is heated—happy prig!
Unstinted in his measure
He always plays at thimb e-rig
And so has a man of pleasure

The Farmer reaps a fortune plump,
Though harrowed far from woe sir,
His spade forever proves a trump
His hook is I re an hoe, sir
However corn [illegible] he does not slip
Though husky never hoarse sir
And in a plow share partnership
He gets his share of course, sir

The sailor on the giddy mast—
Comparatively master—
Has many a bulwark round him cast
To wave away disaster
Fr[illegible] hrouds to him are full of life
His mainstay still is o er him
A gallant and top gallant crew
Of [illegible] before him

The sturdy Irish Laborer picks
And climbs to fame—tis funny
H deals with none but regular bricks
And so he pockets money,
One f[illegible] sticks to him (mortar tis)
In his [illegible] grave unbullied
H [illegible] below an honest name
When he ascends the scaffold

The Printer though his case be hard
Yet still [illegible] not at his [illegible] sir
To [illegible] to canonize the bard
An [illegible] a Roman cap sir
Some go two forty—what of that?
He [illegible] it by the thousand!
A man of f[illegible]m and fun [illegible] of fat
He loves the song I now send

The engine driver [illegible] we treck
His outward semblance [illegible]
Ha got [illegible] tender trams—
[illegible] disturbs the sleeper
And when [illegible] with him as he goes
He [illegible] all the louder
And [illegible] to break him on the wheel
It only makes him prouder

I [illegible] this [illegible] of rhyme upon
The trade winds of the muses,
Through pangent sea they ve borne it on
The boat no ru lder uses,
So masticate its meaning once,
And judge not sternly of it—
You ll find a fraight of little puns
And very little profit

AGRICULTURE.

AGRICULTURAL REPORT

"The establishment of Boards of Agriculture," says Dr Loring is the most important step that has been taken in agricultural improvement" But he might have added that without the diligent worker to gather up and prepare in proper shape for circulation among the farming community the facts drawn out by these Boards, their value would have been small compared with what they actually are The Fourteenth Annual Report of the Secretary of the Maine Board of Agriculture is a work full of instruction for our farmers In it are stored the best thoughts of some of the foremost minds in New England who have given their attention to the study and practice of agriculture The preparation of such a work is no light task Its careful perusal by the practical class for which it is designed will not only benefit them but everybody within reach of its influence, for whatever profits the farmer, increasing his crops or improving his stock, operates to the advantage of all The more abundant the harvest the fewer the number of hungry mouths There is this satisfaction in the farmer s occupation that the larger and better filled his bins barns and farmyards, the more he blesses the world. His prosperity is not the stripping of somebody else His neighbors rejoice in his abundance, for they share it with him

Beside reports of the discussions of the Board of Agriculture at its sessions in January and October last and those of the Farmers Convention we find about sixty articles and essays in this volume upon leading agricultural topics. The employment of a skillful phonographic reporter at the session in Orono and Bangor, enabled Secretary Goodale to secure for publication valuable extempore ous lectures which would otherwise have been lost In this manner were obtained and embodied in the Secretary's Report, a lecture by Professor Goodale of Bowdoin College upon Some of the Conditions of Successful Experimenting," containing important facts and suggestions for every farmer also a lecture by Professor Brackett of the same college upon "Progress in Agricultural Science, giving the farmer a broader view of his calling and its future than he is accustomed to take In turning over the leaves of this volume we find lectures from Dr Loring of Massachusetts, President Abbott of Michigan Agricultural College, Professors Brackett and Goodale of Bowdoin College Secretary Goodale Messrs Long, Brown Boynton, with able articles written by others The subjects which are treated upon all have a practical interest, and the manner in which they are discussed evinces a great deal of research and care in their preparation From the worms and weeds that infest the field and garden to the horses and cattle the analysis of soils, the value of different fertilizers, the preservation of manures, how to manage dairy, poultry and pigs, to the effect of forests and climate, education and science the chain of information is kept up with unvarying interest. There is not an article without its value none which has not cost hard labor. How the march of agriculture has been hastened by the light shed upon it from agricultural literature is well known Instead of rhapsodies upon the delights of rural life we have an agricultural science as thoroughly developed as any other science, containing established facts and producing certain results when practised Says Dr Loring in his lecture "If there was ever any doubt of the disposition and ability of the farmers of Maine or Massachusetts to acquire and impart information, that doubt should be removed by the series of volumes entitled the Agriculture of those States Turn to the 'Abstract of the Returns of the Agricultural Societies of Massachusetts,' contained in those pages, and you will find a record of facts, figures, opinions, theories and laws upon almost every matter of interest to the farmer, a record drawn from the soil itself by the well educated cultivator, or from the stalls and folds and pens of the successful managers of the domestic animals used upon our farms Page after page presents to your consideration the refined sentiments, and generous speculations, and encouraging thoughts, not only of educated men who are called to address our societies at their annual exhibitions, but of those also, who, as practical farmers, ennoble their calling and their daily contribution to the productions of the State * * *

While this labor has been going on in Massachusetts, the State of Maine has been by no means idle The industrious investigations and admirable reports of Mr. S L Goodale, the Secretary of the Board of Agriculture have passed into the most valuable of our agricultural literature, the practical papers published in his annual reports, and his essay on breeding, being familiar to every intelligent farmer"

The average crop of potatoes in Maine the past season, was about seventy five bushels per acre, one third of which have decayed so as to be worthless

SUN AND AIR FOR CATTLE.—In clear days give stock at least three hours' sun in the open yards, and see that the stables and tie-ups are well lighted Nothing is more unfavorable for the health and comfort of stock, than to be confined all day in a dark, unventilated tie-up When the cattle are in the yard, take the opportunity to clean out the tie up, and litter the floor with orts that may have been left in the crib At no other time should they be removed.

HOW OLD ROSS DIED. Old Ross was the most conceited, crabbed, opinionated fellow to be met with anywhere What he didn't know wasn't worth knowing, and he took it as an insult if any one essayed to give him any information

At last he fell seriously ill, and was more crabbed and opinionated than ever It soon became evident that he was near his end, but no one liked to tell him of his condition. A pious old neighbor finally took upon himself the solemn task.

"Neighbor Ross," said he, "there is something that I feel is my duty to tell you."

"You tell me anything?" snapped old Ross in great scorn

"But I tell you Mr Ross, that you are dying"

"Mind your own business I guess I know what I'm about " growled the old man in his dying breath

A case of disputed possession of a child was recently before a New Orleans court, each [illegible] two women claiming the boy as her son The court was wearied with the case, and annoyed by the repeated applications for his interference

"The boy belongs to both of them" he said

"But your Honor," interposed an attorney "that can't be One or the other must be his mother"

"Both of them!"

"A child can't have two mothers"

"Oh yes, he can"

"I don't understand it."

"The Scripture says a man must be born twice, and I'd like to know the reason a boy can't The boy's got two mothers", and clinging to this view the case was dismissed

GERMAN FAITH A young German in Lee, Mass, feeling lonely at such a distance from "fader land," was recommended [illegible] to a young miss in Germany to court him The young lady was an entire stranger but in faith he made the application and in faith she crossed the Atlantic and made her appearance in Lee on one of the late evening trains last week The faithful suitor met her at the depot and the next day the twain were made one

'SHOO FLY' It is remarkable what ludicrous things will have a run for a time! considered "all the go," and constitute the object of joke and song in every place Of this character is the 'Shoo Fly, doggerel of which we have heard so much of late that has been sung in every city, village and nearly every hamlet in the land and a large class of people still want more 'Shoo Fly' And yet a mess of greater absurdity was never put together without the relief of even tolerable wit. It is the singing with the senseless jargon of words, that seems to constitute the popularity of Shoo Fly" The song is a very old one As a matter of curiosity to the thousands who have had the chorus ringing in their ears on every hand for several weeks past, we give the words of what may truthfully be termed the song of the period

Cant Dogs, Cant Dogs.

WE desire to call the attention of all Lumbermen to our

Orono Patent Cant Dogs,

Which we believe to be the very best article of the kind now in the market Its advantages over all others consist in—

1st Having one Ring made of the very best Norway Iron so that there are no 'Toe Rings' to be "picked" off when two or more men are picking against one another

2d The Jaws are beveled and slide off easily instead of receiving a heavy shock when a man strikes at a log and misses

3d The Rings being complete in one the stock cannot chafe and break between the Rings and as but not least there is no clasp to spread and slip all over the stock

We have also the exclusive sale of the

Aroostook Patent Cant Dogs,

which is also liked very much by those who have used them and we can furnish

Peavy Cant Dogs

At almost any price to suit customers

SPINAL DISEASES CAN BE CURED.

[illegible] read the following statement of facts

Remarkable cure of a most obstinate case of spinal difficulty effected by [illegible] Anodyne Liniment

Mr Farrington now of the firm of Hutchinson & Farrington, Burnham Waldo County Me, was, for four years unable to do a day's work, or attend to business of any kind during which time he suffered from those excruciating pains along the spine which rarely fail to accompany the spinal disease Having suffered long and tried many remedies without receiving much benefit, he began to despair of ever being able to attend to the most simple duties of life At length, being advised he tried Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, and very soon saw that he was being benefited, which induced him to persevere in its use, until he had used fifteen bottles, which so far restored him to health, as to enable him to begin life anew. The writer of this saw Mr Farrington about March 1, 1867, and received the facts as above stated, with permission to publish. If there are persons who would like to make per[illegible] inquiries of Mr Farrington in relation to his difficulty, they are invited to address him The above statement is entitled to great consideration, on account of the nature of the case, and coming as it does, from a man whom we all know to be of undoubted reliability

CASTING BREAD UPON THE WATERS, AND WHAT CAME OF IT.

Some time since, a stranger came into our office to sell something We do not remember what, but noticing that he had a bad cough, we gave him a bottle of our Johnson s Anodyne Liniment, for which he thanked us and departed As he was a stranger in our city and a man we never saw before we had no expectation of ever hearing from him again, but to our surprise, about a fortnight later we received the following well written letter, for which we take this opportunity to thank the gentleman hoping that this may sometime meet his eye —

UNITED STATES HOTEL,
PORTLAND, ME, Aug 17

Dear Sir —I beg to tender you my sincere thanks for the bottle of Anodyne Liniment which you gave me and which has cured me of that troublesome and dangerous cough which excited your sympathy I trust the remedy will become still more widely known than it is and [illegible] a world of good

With sincere respect, I have the honor to be yours truly,
I DWIGHT KENDALL

FROM A MASSACHUSETTS PAPER.

We cut the following statement some years ago — FACTS WORTH KNOWING!—Johnson s Anodyne Liniment is superior to any other Liniment or Pain Killer in the world It is equally efficacious whether taken internally or or applied externally

It will cure Cough or Hoarseness
It will cure Whooping Cough
It will cure Influenza
It will cure Bronchitis
It is the best article that can be taken for Bleeding at the Lungs or Spitting of Blood
It will in most cases cure Croup
It will cure Chronic Diarrhoea
It will cure Dysentery of long standing
It is a sure cure for Bloody Dysentery
It will cure Lame Stomach
It will cure Pain in the Stomach or Bowels
It is a sure cure for Kidney Complaints of recent date and will relieve those of long standing It will also cure diseases of the Spine And, from its great Cleansing and Healing properties it is the best medicine that can be applied to a Fever Sore
It is the best outward application known for flesh wounds sprains, bruises swellings or stiff joints
It stands upon its own merits and is warranted to be the best family medicine ever discovered

CHRONIC DIARRHOEA.

The following statement of William Clark, [illegible] is entitled to great credit having come to us fully attested and sworn to, without any solicitation on our part, or even knowledge that such a thing was in contemplation —

MR I S JOHNSON Dear Sir —I was attacked with chronic diarrhoea [illegible] years ago and the fall in [illegible] physicians said it was [illegible] [illegible] complaint but they had [illegible] whatever [illegible] to different doctors both in this State and in Massachusetts [illegible] could not help me; I was reduced to most a skeleton and though [illegible] of Providence, I was [illegible] of your Anodyne Liniment I commenced taking it in the Spring of 1852, and found it helped me, so I continued the use of it until I had taken nine bottles I am now perfectly cured, and over fifty pounds heavier than last summer I give you this [illegible] [illegible] for the benefit of the suffering community I think some of the [illegible] humbug [illegible] there are plenty that will testify to the truth of the cure I [illegible] the Liniment of Mr A Morrill of this place [illegible] further testify that he thinks the Liniment was the [illegible], through the blessing of God, of saving my life I weighed in the spring of 1852 [illegible] hundred [illegible] and I now weigh [illegible] eighty pounds [illegible]

DR A JOHNSON Dear Sir —In consequence of having a fever sore on my leg, it became entirely stiff and bent at the knee at a right angle so that from the knee down I was obliged to wear a wooden leg for several years The lower limb was so much in the way, that I decided to have it amputated and a consultation of physicians for the purpose was held, but Johnson's Anodyne Liniment being recommended to me as a powerful agent in relaxing the cords and [illegible] I concluded to give that a trial, and to my great joy [illegible] by using three bottles my leg was limbered and straightened so [illegible] I have been walking about as well as the other I consider myself indebted to the use of your Liniment through the blessing of Providence for the use of my leg, and would say to others who may need help in this way Try it, and no doubt you will be cured

MR JOHNSON Dear Sir —For more than two years I have been afflicted with that distressing complaint Chronic Diarrhoea, have been treated for it by some of the best physicians in this city and other places but without any good result, had lost my appetite, lost my strength, not able to perform any kind of labor and found I must soon be a burden to myself and to my family About three months since I was urged by a friend to try Johnson's Anodyne Liniment and did so without much hope or expectation of being benefitted, but I must say as soon as I began to take it I began to feel better and I am now well and strong, can eat my allowance of most any kind of food without causing me any distress We have used it in our family for colds and Internal Pains, and I do think it the best family medicine I ever saw I live on Fourth Street in the city of Bangor, and would be glad to tell anybody how much benefit I have received
